Greenkeepers Corner

As mentioned in an earlier snippets, it is the time of year where maintaining a high green speed becomes more of a challenge. The high growth and abundant water means it is the perfect time of year to control weeds and heal damaged or thin turf cover areas in preparation for the summer ahead and we plan to make the most of this opportunity.

This is a note to say that we are aware that this is happening now and it has been duly noted that this happening. To do our best to maintain some pace on the greens we will be lowering the cut of height and Rolling more frequently. Once the weed control has happened we might have a window of opportunity to use growth regulators on the Greens as well.

Cheers
